WARRANTY PRODUCTS

New Home Warranty

Protek's new home warranty is designed for new and newly converted homes being developed for the open market. It provides essential consumer cover in the form of deposit protection. The home is covered for 10 years from the date of completion, with the developer taking responsibility for defects occurring in the first 2 years of cover. In addition, the policy provides non-compliance with building regulations and contaminated land cover where you use our partnered building control service.

Affordable Housing

Our 10 or 12 year warranty product specifically structured to provide cover for Residential Social Landlords and their shared ownership homeowners against loss or damage as a result of major damage caused by defects. In addition cover can be extended to include cover for contractor deposit protection. This product is suitable for new and converted properties.

Basic Warranty

A 10 year structural warranty that has been designed for use on a new build, conversion, renovation or extension project which is being built as a one off, or where provision of a new home building warranty product is not possible. It's particularly useful where a receiver is involved or where the project has a high reinstatement value or is being built as an investment only. The basic structural warranty does not carry a defects period and is suitable for use on more than one unit.

Commercial Warranty

Our commercial building warranty has been designed to protect owners and developers of commercial properties against the cost of fixing potentially expensive defects. Cover is available for a range of buildings including offices, hotels, supermarkets, care homes, commercial units and distribution hubs. The commercial building warranty can be arranged by the developer or property owner on a commercial property at any stage during the construction process and post completion. It offers the possibility of genuine risk transfer to subsequent owners and any successor in title.

Self Build Warranty

Our self build structural warranty policy has been specifically designed to take into consideration the needs of the individual building or managing the creation of their own home. It is suitable for a new self build, conversion, renovation or extension project. You can get a self build structural warranty quote and cover online in just a few minutes at <http://www.protekselfbuild.co.uk>

CONSTRUCTION INSURANCE

Site Insurance

Protek's site insurance policy provides cover for the duration of the project. It will provide cover for the new and any conversion works (including the existing retained structure) as well as public and employers liability, plant tools and equipment. It is a great solution where there is no main contractors all risks cover.

TECHNICAL AUDITS

The bespoke technical audit is carried out by one of our surveyors from a national network spanning the whole of the UK. You can either use a partnered building control service or a traditional additional technical audit. The process is administered electronically with each stage reported quickly, allowing the status of each inspection or the rectification of defects identified during the course of construction to be communicated to stakeholders as quickly as possible. Once instructed, our site audit surveyor will make contact to identify the proposed schedule and request the relevant information to carry out a design and calculation check. We can be on site for the first visit within 5 working days of your instruction.
